Komen Nevada offers a corporate billing arrangement that allows companies to make a one-time payment after the Race to cover some or all of the cost of their team’s Race registration fees. The company determines which option they prefer, i.e. the maximum number of registrations they wish to pay or the percentage of each individual registration fee they wish to pay. Upon receipt of this agreement, Komen Northern Nevada will issue a specific discount code which the employer will share with eligible team members. Team members may then register online without submitting a payment or by only making a partial payment, according to the company’s agreement with Komen.

Companies may setup more than one discount code to cover different levels of support for employees, family members and customers. Offering to cover a fixed amount of customers’ registration fee build customer loyalty and increases the impact a corporate team has in the fight against breast cancer.

After the Race, Komen Nevada will submit an invoice to the company for their employees’ Race registration fees. A list of all employees who registered using the discount code will be provided with the invoice. Payments may be made by check or credit card.

This arrangement provides an added incentive for your employees to participate in the 2016 Reno Race for the Cure and is designed to support the fundraising efforts of your company’s Race Team Captain. All corporate and individual contributions made to Komen Nevada are tax-deductible, charitable contributions for IRS purposes.
